The financial aid officer will assist you in applying for financial aid if you are an eligible candidate (see financial aid brochure.). There are several types of financial aid available to you, including federal Pell grants and government loans. In cases where a student qualifies for the maximum amount in Pell grant money, the grant will cover approximately 80% of the tuition costs. In addition, the school may set up payment plans or grant partial scholarships to individual students. Scholarships are granted in specific situations where overwhelming financial need or academic ability is demonstrated, or an individual has recruited new students. Scholarships are authorized on the basis of need or merit by the school director.

Outstanding tuition balances may be paid in installments on a monthly basis. This will be agreed upon at the time of enrollment. No diploma or transcript will be granted, nor will state board examination applications be released to the student until the tuition balance is paid in full.
